

Friday, February 19

Danny Willet, Second Round 69, aggregate total -8

Q. You got off to a flying start, but it seemed a bit of a struggle after that...

A. Yeah I'm struggling a bit with my body. My energy levels collapsed on the back nine, and I started making a few silly mistakes. But the flags were also quite tricky today and the wind's picking up a bit, so I can't see the scoring being too ridiculous. And I would've taken eight under after two rounds.

Q. Was the course playing any differently today?

A. Yeah, I probably hit four or five different tee shots to what I did yesterday, mainly due to the wind direction and also the in positions. So it's a brilliant golf course in that respect, because you don't have to move the tees around too much to change the hole, if you change the flags it can still affect what you do from the tee. So I love the design. You can still be aggressive and take the hole on if you want, but if you hit it in the rough you lose all control for your second shot. So it really makes you think out there.

Q. How far behind will you be by the close of play?

A. Probably a couple, I'm sure a couple of the guys will shoot four or five under, even though the pins are quite tricky.

Q. What's the plan for this afternoon?

A. I'm going to see the physio then catch up on some rest, because I'm feeling very tired.
