

Marcus Fraser, third round 66, aggregate total -12

Q. Your magical short game was in evidence today...

A. Yeah, I played really well the first two days, but today I was a little bit off. But I managed to scramble on a few holes, and get away with some pars which is key on this course. The up and down on the last was pretty key, it was a straightforward putt – even though it was from 15 feet. I knew the line was a ball outside left and down grain, the key was just to make sure I got it there and luckily it had just enough legs.

Q. You really like this place, don't you?

A. Yeah, it's great. It gives you plenty of options, which is always the sign of a good golf course in my book. It's a lot of fun to play. At the start of the week, I said I thought it was going to be tough so I'm surprised the scoring is as low as it is, I wasn't expecting 15 under to be leading after three days. That's some pretty good golf on a pretty difficult course.

Q. What do you think it's going to take?

A. Probably somewhere round the 18 under mark will win it, depending on what the leader does tomorrow. There are a few guys stacked in behind him, so we'll see what the final day brings. It's going to be interesting.

Q. It's a shame Thongchai had to withdraw, did that disrupt your flow?

A. Not too much, it just meant we were able to cruise round instead of having to rush. The most important thing is that he's OK, I believe he went to hospital so I assume it's fairly serious.

Q. Six wins since your last win, will you be going all guns blazing tomorrow?

A. I've had a fair few chances without managing to get the job done, so it's been frustrating but hopefully I can get over the line tomorrow.
